*“What are the 5 elements of a healthy lifestyle?
Spiritual, physical, emotional, mental, and social. This is why I created Young Living.” ~D. Gary Young*

Sharing My Heart

This time of year, I find myself consumed with feelings of gratitude for the multiple blessings received along with the excited anticipation for the impending new year which quickly approaches. When asked the familiar question... What is it about your Young Living business, that is the most satisfying? My response, after 20 years, continues to be the same.

My greatest joy in my Young Living business has always been in serving my members while developing leaders. I learned early on in this business, that my success was determined by the success of others.

Network marketing is only about you and the company and products you choose to represent, for you are your own President, Board of Director and Managing Executive. Therein lies your personal financial success.

Young Living is changing the world globally and offers you the opportunity and possibilities to change your personal world! As founder, D. Gary Young, states it is your dedication and efforts which allow you to embrace the depths of your own Spiritual, Physical, Emotional, Mental and Social wellbeing.

My Young Living achievement of Royal Crown Diamond is not about me...

It is about God and his unlimited gifts to his children...

It is about Gary Young and his unselfish dedication as God's servant and messenger, to provide us with the world's purest essential oils and supplements that are life enhancing...

It is also about each of you who are the messengers of our planet and your unselfish dedication to share the Young Living products with mankind.

Humbly, I thank you!
